Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 18, 27-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Herkimer U.S. Patent 3,560,313.

Herkimer disclosed a pom-pom comprising a plurality of streamers (21); attachment means (29) for attaching the streamers to the hand of the user including a launch strip (24); means (25) for connecting one end of the streamers to the launch strip; at least two of the streamers each secured individually to the launch strip; Figs. 1 and 5 show at least two separate rows of streamers.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 19, 20, and 30-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Herkimer.

Regarding claims 19 and 20, it is noted that the attachment means (29) of Herkimer is a handle instead of a resilient band ring member as set forth therein. However, the handle (29) of Herkimer is intended to attach to the handle of a user as well and it would have been a matter of design choice to substitute the handle (29) with any equivalent means for attaching to the user's hand or finger; also the use of a resilient band such as rubber band would reduce the overall weight of the pom-pom.

It is also noted that Herkimer failed to disclose the specific sizes of the streamer as set forth in claims 30-32. However, such feature does not appear to have any significant structural advantage over the streamers of Herkimer. Accordingly, it would have been a matter of design choice to make the streamers of Herkimer with a desired length to accommodate any environment.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 15-17 are allowed.

Claims 21-26 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 15-32 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
